New Oil Field Looms In Garden Grove-Buaro District

4000 ACRES ALREADY ARE UNDER LEASE

Report Five Big Companies
Seeking Land; More Concerns Expected in Field

TEST WELLS PLANNED

Firms Paying $3 Per Acre
Per Month; Some Making Sixth Royalty Offer

WITH FIVE big oil companies jockeying for land and with more than 4000 acres already under lease to these companies, interest in the probability of a new oil field of large proportions at the western doorstep of Santa Ana is running high among the landowners from Westminster to the Santa Ana river and from a point two miles south of Bolsa to Chapman avenue.

Virtually every strip of land within a radius of two miles of Bolsa is under lease, while the oil companies, with a number of men in the field, are working night and day in effort to secure leases on property throughout the district.

$3 Per Acre Per Month

The companies are quoted as paying $3 an acre per month for the leases and some are reported as giving a one-sixth royalty for oil. One test rig already has been erected and is expected to spud in this week. This is located on the Sterling Price property, one mile west of Bolsa.

The companies in the field are the Prairie Oil and Pipe company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company, the Standard, Marland, Shell and Texas oil companies.

The Prairie Oil company has secured its leases from the Southern Pacific railroad tracks to Bolsa and south to and including the 290 acres owned by Silas Wright. This company has 2000 acres under lease, it is said.

The Standard Oil company is reported as merely picking up offset leases here and there in and around Bolsa, most of which are located west of the town. The Marland company has leased 40 acres southeast

Question Vagrants In Hunt For Clew To Fate Of Youth

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—Entering the fifth week since he disappeared from the home of his mother here, police had no tangible clew today to the whereabouts of Walter Collins, 9, presumably a victim of kidnapers.

In a rather vague hope of picking up a suspect Chief of Detectives Herman Cline ordered one of the greatest drives on vagrants in the history of the city.

All idlers picked up are to be questioned in regard to their movements since March 1. The Collins boy last was seen by his mother, Mrs. Christine Collins, on March 10.

The most plausible theory of his disappearance, authorities agree, is the possibility that he was abducted by former Folsom prison inmates, who were enemies of the lad's father, W. J. C. Collins, now a convict boss in the penal institution.

AMERICANS VICTIMS OF MEXICO BANDITS

MEXICO CITY, April 9.—A large band of "contribution" bandits—who asked money and jewelry of their victims in the name of "Viva Cristo Rey"—was sought today after more than two score motor carloads of tourists were held up about 20 miles out of Mexico City, on the Guernavaca highway.

The band was believed to have been led by the notorious Maximilian Villegas, whose depredations in the states of Guerrero and Morelos have been many.

Several Americans were believed in the group of victims and it was known one canon of Mexican troops was included. No casualties have been reported.

Sinclair Jury Completed By Justice Bailey

Millionaire Oil Man Goes
To Trial on Charges
Of Conspiracy

By HERBERT LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 9.—A jury was selected today to try Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the famous Teapot Dome naval oil reserve leases.

Four women, who were called in the jury panels, were excused for cause or dismissed from service because of peremptory challenges.

Both sides used all their allotted peremptory challenges, 10 each, before the jury box was filled permanently.

The jury:
Harry E. Brooks, William H. Wrenn, Leon D. Vanderloo, Nevin Ladd, Fred R. Rocher, Howard A. Bradley, William F. Throop, Edmund J. Lynch, Benjamin F. Anderson, F. Clark Brown, Roy R. Shockey, Kenneth Carter.

Recess Until Tomorrow

After the jury was sworn, Justice Bailey recessed court until 9 a. m., tomorrow. He announced the trial would be held daily from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m.

Justice Bailey had examined 64 talesmen to obtain the jury. Hitherto, it has been customary for attorneys, rather than judges, to examine talesmen.

After selection of the 12, Justice Bailey ordered the jury looked up. At noon, after two hours of questioning, not a single juror had been chosen for the case.

FEUD ENDS WITH KILLING, SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—A two-year-old business feud led to the probable fatal shooting of one man and the suicide of his assailant here today.

The tragedy occurred in the heart of the financial district during the noon rush hour.

Edward Sherry probably will die of bullet wounds inflicted by Joseph Saft, Fresno barber.

After firing two shots into Sherry's body, Saft fled to the lobby of a nearby building and killed himself with the same pistol.

Two years ago Sherry sold a barber shop in Fresno to Saft. The latter was dissatisfied with the deal.

Dry Agents Must Report Suspects, U. S. Court Rules

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The U. S. supreme court decided today that the Volstead law made it a crime for federal prohibition officials to fail to report suspected liquor law violators to their U. S. attorney.

The decision was made in the case of John P. Donnelly, Nevada prohibition director, convicted in federal court.

EXCEPTIONALLY HEAVY VOTING MARKS ELECTIONS IN ORANGE COUNTY CITIES

Heavy voting marked today's election in 12 incorporated cities of Orange county, practically every community holding an election reporting a rush to the polls.

One of the heaviest votes ever cast in a city election is expected at Newport Beach. A hot contest is being waged between two factions who are seeking the reins of power in the city government. Late today reports from the five

DAM CONTROL IS TAKEN FROM L. A. ENGINEER

Supervisors Give Construction Supervision to Consulting Board

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, April 9.—Control of the construction of Los Angeles county dams was taken today from C. E. Eaton, chief engineer of the flood control district, and invested in the board of consulting engineers by a unanimous vote of the board of supervisors.

The action was taken without debate after the supervisors listened to a report from the consulting board criticizing the construction of the Pacoima dam.

Eaton will remain in his present position at his present salary of $10,000 a year but he will be under the direction of the consulting board, whose members receive $7500 a year each.

Immediately preceding the vote, Supervisor Sydney Graves read a statement that, despite his requests, Eaton had failed to refer important moves to the consulting board.

The consulting board is composed of J. B. Lippincott, E. C. Henny and J. W. Reagan.

FARM RELIEF BILL ASSAILED BY FESS

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The McNary farm relief bill was assailed today by Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, as the senate resumed debate on it.

Fess objected to the equalization fee provision.

"I consider it unworkable and unconstitutional," he said.

His speech was regarded as an expression of the administration's attitude toward the bill.

New Filibuster Is Planned By Arizona Solon

Measure Allows 'Invasion' Of State, Objections Set Forth

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, April 9.—A minority report from the irrigation committee, urging defeat of the Swing-Johnson Boulder dam bill, was presented to the senate today by Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona.

A majority of the committee approved the bill several weeks ago and it is scheduled for consideration as soon as the farm relief and migratory bird bills are acted upon.

Ashurst served notice that he will filibuster against the measure as he did last year unless some changes are made. His objections to the bill are detailed in the minority report. They are:

1.—The bill authorizes "invasion" of the state of Arizona without its consent and over its protest.

2.—It denies Arizona the right to use her public lands for canals, irrigation works or transmission lines.

3.—Sees expensive litigation.

4.—If the bill is passed it will plunge Arizona into expensive and protracted litigation.

5.—No legislation for a federal project should be passed until all states involved give their consent.

6.—A storage project on the main river, without a specific allocation of water to Arizona, will give Mexico some of the benefits.

7.—The bill proposes invasion of Arizona by the federal government to deliver water to another state.

8.—It deprives Arizona of the water necessary to her development and growth.

9.—The large amount of water apportioned to California is unwarranted.

10.—Arizona and Nevada are required to underwrite the cost of canals and other structures in California.

11.—The bill deprives the Yuma County Water Users' association of its right to the Laguna dam.

12.—The bill authorizes the federal

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 9.—Attempted lynching of Negroes by the Ku Klux Klan and a reign of terror by the organization were related today in federal court by Roy F. Barclay, when he took the witness stand in the suit to oust the Klan from Pennsylvania.

Barclay said he was clothed with the purple robe of Sam D. Rich, grand dragon in 1923, to perform and take part in the depredations. He admitted his part in the attempted lynching of a Negro near Beaver, Pa., and named a man known as "Herkenberger," a prohibition agent, as one of the members of the party.

Four Conventions and Two Primaries Will Choose
100 Delegates

(By Paul R. Mallon)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 9.—Four state conventions and two primaries will select 100 more presidential convention delegates this week.

Politicians look to these contests to establish a more definite line on the strength of the candidates of both parties.

The important Illinois primary, involving the Lowden-Thompson contest, will be held Tuesday at the same time as the Nebraska primary, which is more or less a out and dried affair.

Republican state conventions will be held Monday in Rhode Island, Tuesday in Idaho, Wednesday in North Carolina and Saturday in New Mexico.

Following is a general summary of views of political leaders here about the contests:

Illinois

A close eye is being kept on the Illinois primary to ascertain the result of the feud of Mayor William Hale Thompson, political leader of Chicago, against the native son candidacy of former Gov. Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois. Thompson has been in the saddle in Chicago, but the anti-Thompson faction there, led by Senator Deneen, sympathizes with Lowden, 41 of the 58 delegates are to be chosen outside the city of Chicago.

THOMAS W. MILLER MUST SERVE TERM

BY C. C. NICOLET
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, April 9.—Another bomb—the 67th since October—shook Chicago out of its pre-primary calm today.

Police were inclined at first to blame the blast on alcohol rather than on politics, but many observers believed it was the start of a renewed election offensive.

It was the first important bombing since the homes of Senator Charles Deneen and Circuit Judge John A. Swanson were damaged, two weeks ago.

Blows Out Rear of House

Today's bomb blew out the rear of a two-story frame residence in Melrose Park, a residential suburb. The place was said to have housed one of the numerous alcohol making establishments of Joe Montana.

Montana was associated politically with "Diamond Joe" Esposito, henchman of Senator Deneen, who was assassinated three weeks ago.

The bomb was unusually powerful. It tore the entire rear out of the two-story structure and shook buildings for miles around.

Felt at Oak Park

The explosion was felt as far away as the adjoining fashionable suburb of Oak Park. Three men were arrested a few minutes after the explosion. Melrose Park police refused to give any information about the suspects.

EIGHT INDICTED IN CHICAGO KIDNAPING

CHICAGO, April 9.—Eight men were indicted today on charges of kidnaping Thomas Gaylor, wealthy automobile dealer and hotel man, who was rescued Saturday night after being held captive for a week.

The men indicted were Harry Burton, Frank Carson and James O'Brien, Detroit, found guarding Gaylor; William L. Lewis, former saloon keeper; Otto Schoen, proprietor of a roadhouse; Herman Hurms, chief at Schoen's place, and two men yet unapprehended, Harold Conliffe, alleged "brains" of the gang, and George Maher.

SINCLAIR CASE JURY

Many talesmen said they had formed fixed opinions regarding the case and they were excused after being challenged peremptorily or for cause. This was decided by different from the previous trial, in which venemen previously had been excused for alleged ignorance of the case.

It was evident that service on the jury seemed unattractive, since it was believed the jurors would be locked up to prevent a repetition of jury tampering which caused the first trial to end abruptly last October.

Fall's Condition
Reported Satisfactory

PASADENA, Calif., April 9.—The condition of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior and an important factor in the Teapot Dome oil scandal, was said to be satisfactory at the Las Encinas sanitarium here today.

Attendants stated Fall was recovering from fatigue suffered during his trip here from El Paso, Fall denied himself to all visitors. The former secretary of the interior still is suffering from the effects of a serious attack of pneumonia several months ago.

"The new fares are treated as experimental and the commission retains jurisdiction of the proceedings so that changes can be made promptly as the results from the various fares develop," the commission stated.

Local fares in cities like Long Beach, Glendale, Riverside, San Bernardino, San Pedro, Santa Monica and others, where the local fares were involved, are reduced from six cents to five cents. In Los Angeles the present six-cent zone local fares are changed to five cents with a corresponding shortening of the zones. Present local fares in Pasadena and Santa Ana are not changed, these not being before the commission in the proceeding.

In Los Angeles, five-cent fares are established in certain zones.

cago and Lowden claims all the outside group. Thompson has been campaigning for an unopposed delegation pledged to renomination of President Coolidge.

Gov. Al Smith is undisputed leader in the Democratic race there, though he may lose a few delegates downstate.

Nebraska

This state's primary is expected to be little more than a formality with two favorite sons—Norris, Republican, and Hitchcock, Democrat—dominating the field. Senator Norris already has 16 votes from the Wisconsin primary and with 19 from his home state he will go into the convention with a minimum bloc of 35. Former Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock's friends believe he will be a real dark horse in the early balloting.

Rhode Island

The Republican convention will give Hoover the state's complete delegation of 13 without contest.

Idaho

Senator Borah will receive the 11 delegates of Idaho as a native son candidate. There may be a contest over second choice.

North Carolina

A contest between Lowden and Hoover delegates is expected in the Republican convention. Both sides claim the upper hand. One Lowden and two Hoover delegates already have been chosen. The state has 21 delegates.

New Mexico

A test of strength between Hoover and Lowden also will be staged in this Republican state convention. Hoover headquarters claim the delegation for him.

Strip Yet Unleased
At the present time there is a strip of land approximately two miles wide, running northwest and southeast, between the Prairie leases and the leases of the Texas Oil company, not as yet under lease. The Texas company now controls approximately 1250 acres, starting at the Pacific Electric railroad tracks and running west of Garden Grove.

Other companies are expected in the field by the first of the week. They will seek acreage west all the way to Chapman avenue, it is believed. It is known that many ranchers have leased property from Garden Grove to the Chapman road.

The Texas company will sink a well somewhere east of Garden Grove, it is reported, but no definite point has been decided on for the try-out, it was declared.

WARRANT IS ISSUED FOR FILM DIRECTOR

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of William Nigh, noted motion picture director, when he failed to appear in superior court today to plead to a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Judge Elliott Craig, who issued the warrant, also ordered Nigh's $5000 bail forfeited when his attorney was unable to show reason for the director not being in court. Nigh, with his chauffeur, Bert Trowbridge, is charged with attacking Edward Usher Jr., former Michigan football star, with an automobile crank. A dispute over Usher's attentions to Jean Jarvis, former Broadway actress, led to the assault, it was said.

TIRES

Increase Your Mileage
Eliminate Trouble,
Reduce Your Tire Cost
— Get Real Stage Line
Wear and Comfort in

Balloon — High Pressure — Stage and Truck

If the tires on your car would give you the same long, trouble-free, low-cost mileage that the stage lines secure in their fast, grueling runs under heavy loads, you'd feel you were getting a great advantage wouldn't you?

Sometimes as you watch those massive, heavily-loaded stages speed by on the roads, you wonder how any kind of rubber could stand up under such severe usage. You surely realize that if you could get such tires for your car, they would give you thousands of miles more of service than the ordinary tire.

And if these same tires should cost you no more originally, then, of course, you'd be saving a lot of money in tire bills.

You can secure just those same advantages with Samson tires. Years ago Samson made its reputation by building a tire that would outrun all others in this grueling stage line service. Then, after years of study and testing and experimentation Samson engineers developed this construction in beautiful, comfortable passenger car sizes, of both balloons and high pressure cords.

The result is that today Samson is the only tire that gives a motorist stage line wear, endurance, and comfort for his passenger car at a cost no higher than that of ordinary tires.

The next time you need a tire, think of this, then come in and let us prove to you by the experience of others how much you can gain by using Samsons on your car.

County Supervisors Lend Hand in Launching of Landing Field Here

County officials, officials of several oil companies and officials of the Maddux air lines took part in the dedication of the new Orange County Airport near the head of Newport Bay Saturday afternoon.

More than 500 persons thronged the grounds awaiting the arrival of Col. Charles Lindbergh who had reported that he might return to the field and take part in the dedication ceremony. The Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Orange county advisory committee on aeronautics arranged the dedication program. Boy Scouts of Newport Beach marched in formation about the field and officiated at the flag raising at the new 50-foot tower which was completed at the airport Saturday.

Wind indicators and beacon lights are to be placed on the tower later, according to Antar Deraga, secretary of the Orange county Stunt flying by Hadley Hershey, Verne Speich and other flyers featured the afternoon program with special trips around the county being made by one of the big trimotored planes of the Maddux air line of Los Angeles. The big ship brought a load of passengers to Orange county from Los Angeles and returned with them late in the afternoon.

Construction work on hangars and other equipment to be placed on the field will be started within the next few weeks, it is reported by members of the advisory committee. Plans are also being formulated to add to the airport ground. It is expected when the port is completed that a runway 7000 feet in length will be available. Rest rooms, restaurants, water and oil facilities and other conveniences are to be placed at the field, it is reported.

TAXES WILL BE DELINQUENT ON LAST OF APRIL

J. C. Lamb, county tax collector, called for $1,500,000 today from residents of Orange county and expressed the opinion that he will get it before the end of the month.

Citizens in this section always have responded to his suggestions generously, he said, and predicted that $1,000,000 of the amount needed will be paid in within the next two weeks.

The last Monday in April is the day when taxes will become delinquent and it so happens that it will be the last day of the month, Lamb pointed out. He urged that those who have taxes to pay should do so as early as possible in order to eliminate possible rush and confusion on the last day. In particular those who have money which they are not using were referred to by the tax collector.

Tax bills, deeds or other descriptions of the property on which fees are to be paid should be brought to his office when the money is handed over to the county, he stated, declaring that confusion and loss of time will be avoided if this is done.

The total amount to be collected for the 1927-1928 years is $5,892,426.53, but 60 per cent of this amount already has been put into the coffers.

NEWPORT GOES TO COURT TO DECIDE LANDS

Franklin G. West, city attorney of Newport Beach, began an attempt today in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court to find out just what the coast community acquired when the California legislature in 1927 granted to that city its title to tidelands and submerged lands bordering on Newport bay below the line of ordinary high tide.

The line of mean high tide never has been determined, West declared, and therefore the city has no means of knowing just where its new possessions end and where private property begins. The court is asked to decide this point in a group of 10 lawsuits which West placed before it today.

These cases are brought against individuals and business organizations which have land bordering the bay and who are at as much of a loss as Newport Beach to know where their property lines adjoining the water lie.

Those named in the cases filed by West are Lew H. Wallace, J. A. Beek, Edna R. Storey, the Irvine company, the First National bank of Santa Ana, Orange County Improvement association, Newport Bay Investment company, Ray Island club, Pacific Electric Land company, the Newport company, Newport Bay Dredging company, Title Insurance and Trust company, Balboa Holding company, and Bulah M. Giddings. Ten of these 15 cases were involved today when the hearing opened.

Burglars Busy During Night

Burglars operated in two sections of Orange county last night.

according to reports filed at the sheriff's office.

Thieves entered the home of O. A. Daugherty, on the Irvine ranch, early last evening and stole a .32 caliber Winchester carbine, a box of shells for this rifle and a 6:35 caliber Mauser pistol.

The house was ransacked. Entrance was made after a window had been forced, it was reported. Women's clothing, together with a watch, toilet set, and a string of pearls were reported stolen from the home of Fred H. Wur-sell, Anaheim, Route No. 5, some time last night by thieves who entered the house while members of the family were away from home.

GLASS FACTORY HEADS TO HOLD TARIFF MEET

With the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce taking the initiative in a campaign among glass manufacturers to eliminate tariff and other conditions that militate against operation of glass manufacturing plants in Orange county and Southern California, George Raymer, secretary, today announced completion of plans for a conference of representatives of glass factories central to the southland to be held Thursday, at 10 a. m., at the Alexandria hotel, Los Angeles.

Raymer will preside over the meeting and the principal subject of discussion will be co-operative buying of raw materials entering into the manufacture of glass.

Investigations by the Santa Ana secretary have revealed that there is a spread of 18 to 26 per cent as between the cost of raw materials on the Pacific coast and in eastern and central states.

It is the opinion of the secretary that by all Southern California factories co-operating in the purchase of supplies the differential can be overcome by quantity purchasing.

Eighteen companies have indicated to Raymer they will send delegates to the conference Thursday, and Raymer is anticipating concrete results.

Pointing out that the United States tariff commission now is engaged in investigation of production costs of glass in Belgium and other foreign countries with a view to adjusting the tariff upward, Raymer said that the possible increase in the tariff rates and reductions in costs resulting from grouping buying would be effective in making it possible for the Standard American Glass company to resume operation of its big plant here.

He also commented on the possibility of this community acquiring the proposed Pacific Coast plant of the Pittsburgh Glass company.

FINE WEATHER ATTRACTS BIG BEACH CROWDS

Warm weather, combined with the lure of the waves in the Pacific ocean, drew hundreds of people to Balboa and Newport yesterday to celebrate Easter. In the Middle West it was rumored that light and flowery spring garments were worn over the old reliable cardinal woollens. But there was no doubt about what Orange county wore next to its skin yesterday. For it didn't wear anything else but, and the colors were not only cardinal, but blue, green and every other hue, as well as combinations in stripes.

When members of the bathing suit brigade saw that the swimming season had arrived, they kicked up their heels. Boys and girls sported together at the water's edge just as their grand parents would have liked to do if they had dared.

Pyramid builders began their spring training and exponents of various other forms of beach sport unlimbered their joints for the summer schedule of competition. The girl with the water proof swimming togs asked her mother if she might go out to swim. Being of an obedient nature, she heeded the now famous maternal reply, crawled under the shade of an umbrella and began the task of acquiring the rudiments of a coat of tan by the end of the season.

The other girl, who holds court like a princess each Sunday, staked out her stretch of sand, distributed herself, her finery and her admirers and prepared to look beautiful for the next six months.

High school boys, looking collegiate, and college boys, looking collegiate also, appeared in faultlessly pleated trousers and wandered along the board walk with freshly decked co-eds.

The strains of dance music were wafted suggestively across the beach by loud speakers and the youth of the county succumbed to its invitation in large droves. Meanwhile the ocean continued to lap the shore and some people went swimming.

NEW NATIONAL BANK TO OPEN ABOUT JULY 1

Final organization of the Commercial National Bank of Santa Ana was effected at a special meeting of the stockholders and directors Saturday afternoon and all papers were signed and sent by air mail to Washington for approval, it was announced today.

The new bank's authority is expected to be received here within a few days by wire, it was said.

At the same time it was announced that contract for the remodeling of the bank's new home at Fourth and Bush streets, in the old Reinhaus building, probably would be let within the next few days. Local contractors have the plans and will make their bids immediately, it was said.

E. T. Grua, former president of the First National Bank of South Pasadena, has been elected president and manager of the new Santa Ana institution and J. P. Baumgartner, former publisher of The Register has been elected chairman of the board of directors, it was announced.

Col. S. H. Finley, Santa Ana representative on the county board of supervisors, is vice president, and Edwin Rockhill, a banker of 18 years experience, has been named cashier of the new institution.

The board of directors is composed of the following well known citizens of Santa Ana and the county: Clyde C. Downing, attorney, who also will be attorney for the bank; J. S. Smart, president of Smart and Final, wholesale grocers; J. C. Horton, president of the Horton Furniture company; Theo. Winbigler, head of the Winbigler Mission Funeral home; John Knox, real estate dealer; A. W. Gerrard, head of the Garrard stores here; Dr. C. W. Ralston, banker and financier; A. J. McFadden, farmer; James B. Utt, stocks and bonds; John Osterman, ranch owner, and Albert Hill, proprietor of S. Hill and Sons, hardware; W. V. Whitson, president of the Whitson Lumber company.

The new quarters of the bank are to be commodious and handsome, ranking with the larger banking institutions in the county, and will be completed on or about July 1, at which time the new bank expects to be open for business, it was declared.

Final check of stockholders disclosed the number to be in excess of 400, and the government requirement of a statement of the net worth of each stockholder revealed the fact that the combined net worth of stockholders is far in excess of $10,000,000.00.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor Register:

"Reservation by the city of the old Olive street reservoir site for an athletic field was endorsed by the Orange County Builders' exchange at a meeting last night (3rd.) in American Legion hall, and a committee was appointed to urge action by the council in promotion of the site for purposes indicated." So reported by Register.

This writer, several weeks ago, proposed this site for a park or sunken garden, or both. This proposition was endorsed by some organizations and also by individuals of standing in the community. Some of them advocated a "Rose Garden"; others that the city secure the balance of the tract, lying on the north, for park and garden.

The writer, personally don't give a "whoop," just so it is dedicated to something that will be beneficial and uplifting to the people of our city as a whole. If our trustees believe that an "athletic field" will fill the bill, then let them go to bat. However, they should keep in mind that only a very few years ago, our people were called upon to vote something like half a million dollars for parks and playgrounds. Evidently the voters deemed this exorbitant, for they voted it down. Our trustees now have an opportunity to, at least partially, grant what the advocates of parks and playgrounds asked for.

The tract under discussion is an ideal place for a park, as it is located in a locality of homes of the better sort. On the other hand imagine—if you can—what an "athletic field" located here among the pretty homes, would mean to the residents of the locality? Bing! Biff! What would these builders say, were it proposed, in THEIR localities?

Don't the builders know that Santa Ana tax-payers own the finest "athletic field" in Orange county. On these grounds, beside the Poly high buildings, we have what is known as the "Frank Andrews Gymnasium building," with full equipment needed in such places, costing many thousands of dollars. There is also cinder-path which is used also for hurdle racing. Then there is basketball and tennis courts. All these belong to the people, who pay the freight. No, I did not forget baseball and football grounds. They, like the grounds they are located in, are important enough to be named separately. We might say to those who may think these too tame to be pleasing; that they might find what they want in this line down about Delhi, or thereabouts.

Yours for Recreation with Reason,
S. J. JACKMAN.

ZENITH PLANT NOT TO MOVE TO LONG BEACH

The Zenith Aircraft corporation of Midway City will not move to Long Beach, it was reported today by Stewart Price, president of the corporation. Reports in a Long Beach newspaper Saturday stated that the concern was planning to move to Long Beach. The article quoted Ray Carpenter as authority for the proposed move. Price today stated that the company was well satisfied with its location at Midway City and did not even contemplate moving to Long Beach.

The huge Zenith Albatross plane which is now in its hangar at Midway City will make another try for the world's endurance record in the near future, according to Price. The start of the test will be made from San Diego.

Efforts are being made to start an endurance trial from the Orange county airport. Officials of the company report that a runway of between 7000 and 8000 feet is necessary for the ship to start with a full load of gasoline. Should the test at San Diego fail the next attempt for the record might be made from the Orange county field.

The company plans to start production of several models in airplanes in the near future it is reported. The ships will be six, eight and 12 passenger affairs, according to reports.

FORMER EDITOR TO SPEAK FOR BAPTIST CLUB

Mac Robbins announced today that the Men's Club of the First Baptist Church has obtained as speaker for its next meeting the eminent editor and educator, Prof. Wm. Edward Rafferty, of the department of religious education of the University of Redlands.

Dr. Rafferty is recognized as a leading authority in the field of religious education, according to Mr. Robbins, and was the first editor of the International Journal of Religious Education. Since he came to the Redlands faculty last year he has been in constant demand as a speaker and lecturer throughout the state, in addition to his work as instructor in the university.

Dr. Rafferty will address the Men's Club of the First Baptist Church at its monthly dinner next Tuesday evening, his topic being "The Great God in Religious Education." Mr. Robbins, who has charge of the program for the evening, stated that Dr. Rafferty's address is aimed to develop in the church and community a more intelligent and widespread interest in the welfare of childhood and youth, and is in line with the plans of the church for a greatly-enlarged program and increased staff for work for youth recently adopted and underwritten by the church.

The church board of religious education will attend the dinner to hear Dr. Rafferty; and Mr. Robbins stated that men from the other churches in Santa Ana who are interested in the problems of religious education are welcome to attend as far as the capacity of the dining hall will permit. Reser-

FOUR PARTIES IN FRANCE TO SEEK OFFICE

By J. W. T. MASON
(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, April 9.—The French chamber of deputy elections will be held April 22 with four major parties in the field and the expectation that there will be no violent change in the present balance of power which permits the co-operation of the various moderate groups. If the voters sustain Premier Poincare for having saved the franc, Europe will be content with the outlook, for unity with the Poincare conservatism in France is the astute statesmanship of Foreign Minister Briand, who has won the government by his program of developing increasing friendship with Germany.

The four leading French political groups are the Communists, the Socialists, the Radical-Socialists and the Moderate Republicans and Social Conservatives. The most powerful party is the Radical-Socialists who have adopted this name to indicate they are not full-fledged Socialists but Radicals with some of the progressive views of the Socialists. They are the Liberals of France and the backbone of the present National Union bloc with which Poincare and Briand govern France.

The Communists have 29 members out of a total of 610 in the chamber of deputies and are not in an influential position, strategically because of the failure of Bolshevism in Russia to raise the level of the Russian working people to anything like the position of the French workers. The Socialists, who have 100 members, have been the main force for the dinner may be made through Mr. Robbins or at the church office with Miss Evelyn Krebs, church secretary.

about 100 members, have disciplined themselves to the point where initiative is a danger to anyone among their leaders displaying it. In consequence, the Socialists are constantly dodging responsibility of office. They like the post of opposition, where they can deliver general criticism of others.

If the Socialists were to come into power with a clear working majority they would put into effect their major financial plan, consisting of a capital levy. By that they mean taking from everybody having a moderate amount of property a part of the wealth, not in the form of income tax but by a direct levy on the property, itself. The Radical-Socialists and of course, the more conservative groups oppose this policy. The French peasants, who are very conservative where property rights are concerned, are also anti-Socialistic in this respect.

The Radical-Socialists, however, agree with the Socialists in supporting the present system of state monopolies of various enterprises—a form of government ownership on a moderate scale, largely as a revenue producing measure. The Moderate Republicans and Social Conservatives want to abolish state monopolies and encourage private enterprise to the utmost extent. They want stricter economy in government expenditures.

But, whatever the platforms of the various groups, they are subordinated to the general desire to save France. The Poincare method of stabilizing the franc has undoubtedly saved France and it is problematical whether the policy of any other French leader would have done so. Certainly, no other leader was willing to advance to the front, when the franc showed signs of a debacle and undertake the responsibility of preventing a collapse.

This is what M. Poincare did and this is his claim to a vote of confidence at the polls. He is, himself, a staunch conservative, a capitalistic lawyer and a foe of economic radicalism. He has few real followers. Those who follow him do so because he earns respect by his austere regard for the actualities of France's financial position. It is hard to face realities in the French parliament but M. Poincare has done so and has become France's saviour in peace as Clemenceau was the nation's saviour in war.

He is no more popular than any French statesman would be who for the first time has made the peasants pay an income tax. But he has persuaded the peasants that it is better to pay and survive than to refuse payment and invite communism with a capital levy and the possibility of property rights being overthrown.

By the strength of his personality and also by his ability to compromise—as with Briand's pro-Germanism which was at first distasteful to him—Premier Poincare has made probable his return to office. If the elections should go against him, France would be thrown into turmoil and experiments will have to be made with other policies which in turn will prove unworkable as they did before. Only the Poincare way of taxation can win for France.

HIT-RUNNER BEING SOUGHT BY POLICE

Santa Ana police were, last night, asked to search here for a "hit and run" driver of an automobile which ran down a pedestrian at Oceanside, last night, and then dashed on north, without stopping to render aid.

The man was dragged for a distance of 120 feet, according to the reports from the Oceanside police and suffered two fractured legs. He will live, it was reported. The man's name was not reported here, nor was the number of the machine that struck him, officers said.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, April 9.—Miss Maud Aronhalt and Mrs. Alvin Rhodes entertained their Sunday school classes of the junior department of the Baptist church with an Easter party at the former's home Friday afternoon. The girls spent the afternoon playing games and coloring eggs. Refreshments were served to the following: Dorothy Beardsley, Jewel Rogers, Ethel Bowers, Ramona Weaver, Hilys Harveson, Flossie Crowell, Margaret Watts, Ruth Brockett, Vestal Hylton, Thelma Helms, Vivian Hale and June Nakamisha.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Reele entertained the latter's brother, C. R. Prince, of Calipatria, at dinner Friday evening. Mr. Prince was in attendance at the principal's convention at Long Beach last week. He is a former vice principal at Anaheim high school and will be remembered by a number of Garden Grove young people.

Mrs. Margaret Beardsley entertained the following dinner guests Friday: Mrs. McMeekin and daughters, Mrs. Pedro Swartz and Mrs. Weber, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Sarah Howard and three children, of Escondido, and Mrs. J. C. Farnsworth, of Bolsa, spent Friday with their sister, Mrs. Ora Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Beardsley left Friday on a business trip to Oceanside. They expect to go on into Mexico and be away a week.

James Cockerham accompanied his Sunday school class of boys to Exposition Park, Los Angeles, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Killingbeck and family returned Saturday from a five-day trip to the northern

Keep Looking Young

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eye with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.—Adv.

health, command of fundamental processes, worthy home membership, vocation, civic education, worthy use of leisure time, and ethical character. This seven-fold program was endorsed and accepted by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and all state congresses as well.

Southern California is particularly fortunate in having the state chairman of visual education, Mrs. Ercel McAtter, who is a resident of Los Angeles and a member of the Board of Education. Mrs. McAtter is a woman of rare gifts, and overflowing with enthusiasm for her chosen work. Through her work the parent-teacher associations of the state have received a wonderful incentive toward the wise guidance of the child in his leisure time. They have come to realize that the emotional life of the child today is woven about the life of the street and the motion picture. The proper use of the emotions is most important in all elementary education and the wise parent directs the child's activities and experiences toward a controlled emotional outlook on life.

The Fourth District, Congress of Parents and Teachers, will present Mrs. McAtter as the feature of the afternoon at the annual convention to be held on Saturday, April 14, in Buena Park, when, with the aid of the new projector recently installed in the school,

A Greek sports writer of 1896 has left us a lively account of the Olympic games in that year.

The games were held at Athens in March, cold weather and rain hampering the contestants, but even so the performances, compared with those of today, seem surprisingly poor.

Great progress has been made in athletics during the past quarter of a century; nothing demonstrates the fact more convincingly than a comparison of the Olympic records of 1896 and 1924.

In those days, American athletes surpassed those of other nations; there were no Finns at Athens to challenge our supremacy. There were but a dozen events contested, whereas a program five times as long has been outlined for Amsterdam.

None of the events at Athens was for women, since the Greeks, in establishing the revival, followed tradition as closely as possible, and women were forbidden even to witness the original Olympic games, the single exception being the priestess of Demeter Chamyne.

On an occasion, in the sixth century B. C., Phenerice, daughter of Diagonas of Rhodes, disguised herself as a male gymnast and boldly crossed the Alpheus to accompany to the games her son, Peisirodos, who was entered in the boxing for boys.

All would have been well had not the fond mother, in her excitement over her son's triumph, betrayed her sex. Whereupon the Greeks passed a rule that all Olympic competitors should remain stark naked during the contests.

All of which, of course, is a far cry from 1896, when the games were revived after a period of inactivity extending over 15 centuries. At Athens, according to our friend, the sport writer, the contestants wore "flannel-shirts, short undershirts and canvas shoes."

Here is how he recorded the running of the opening event, the 100-meter dash, one of nine won by Americans:

"FIRST GROUP: The interest of the public was fully excited when the Champions entered the list. After they had ranged themselves in a straight line, ready to bounce forward, a pistol shot gave the signal for starting. Onwards they ran. Mr. Lane, an American, arrived first at the goal, he had run the race in 12 1/5 seconds. Mr. Szokely, a Hungarian, came in second, time of the race, 12 3/4 seconds.

"SECOND GROUP: To this group belonged one Greek, M. Chalcocondylis, member of the Athletic Club of Athens. When he entered the list encouraging cheers resounded from all sides, but he was overtaken in the race by Mr. Curtis, an American, who arrived at the goal in 12 1/5 seconds. Mr. Chalcocondylis came in second.

"THIRD GROUP: Also in this race an American came out victorious, having run the race in only 12 seconds."

The following comparison of records established at Athens with those of today indicates the advance of athletic endeavor in the past 32 years:

Event	1896	1928
100 meters	12.5	10.4
400 meters	54.2	47.4
800 meters	2:11	1:51.6

High jump	5 ft. 11 1/4	6 ft. 8 1/4
Broad jump	20 ft. 9 3/4	25 ft. 10 7/8
Hop, step and jump	12m. 70cm.	15m. 53cm.

The Real Fastest Human

A series of articles on professional foot racing of 35 years ago in general and about Tom Morris, the Santa Ana, probably the fastest sprinter of all time, in particular.

The following times by Morris will satisfy you that he was a runner: 50 yards, .05 flat (repeatedly); 75 yards, .07 flat; 100 yards, .09 3/5 (repeatedly); .09 1/2 (twice); 150 yards, 0:14 flat.

Virtually all of the material was gathered and prepared by Ben Macomber, a Santa Ana of the early days and now a San Francisco newspaperman. The Register also is indebted to C. W. Raney, Morris' trainer in the old days, for information. The story is about a Santa Ana boy who made world history but whom the world has now almost forgotten. It should be of interest to any lover of sport, old or young.

Just a little postscript to the history of Tom Morris.

On August 27 of 1922, Tom Morris, then 55, went over to some holiday doings at Julian, a mountain town in San Diego county.

There were some foot races. One of them was for men over 50 years old. Tom won that and the box of cigars that was the prize. Some contrast between that stake and the $10,000 and more that Tom won in his race at the Santa Ana track in 1892 with James Quirk when Morris stepped 75 yards in 0:07 flat.

Then, at this Julian celebration, there was a free-for-all at 100 yards with nine starters. With an eye to the main chance, the winner of the old men's race stood back and watched these nine youths have it out.

At the conclusion he offered to run the winner for a bet. But somebody whispered something in the young man's ear and he discreetly steered away from his 55-year-old challenger.

However, the chap who had come in second in the free-for-all had no one to wise him up. One look at the aged wreck who offered him a match and he took on Tom Morris.

The race that followed cost the young Julian sports $200. Tom had no trouble landing his youthful antagonist in 0:11 1/5.

So Tom Morris, if he is a has-been, is still able to eat.

One more little story. Several years ago when the Los Angeles ball club went to Elsinore to train, Tom Morris got a job there as groundskeeper. We quote the Los Angeles Examiner:

"The Elsinore 'Phenom' 'Medical gents who like to snoop into the unusual ought to take a slant at the Elsinore 'phenom.' 'When the Angels reported there for baseball training a week ago, 'Red' Killefer noticed a swarthy old fellow lamping the athletes very carefully.

"'Lot of them young guys are muscle-bound,' he commented. 'Killefer passed it off without reply. Later, he hired the man to clean up the diamond every afternoon after practice.

"The 'phenom' is about 60. He is gray-haired and they number about 106. He walks with a stoop, flaunts a walrus-like mustache and looks for all the world like a retired farmer just easing along in his declining years.

Killefer Gets Jolt "It was considerable of a jolt, therefore, to Killefer when the 'phenom' appeared at the diamond

France Girds For Davis Cup Defense

U. S. SURE TO BE LAST ROUND RIVAL, BELIEF

By MINOTT SAUNDERS
(NEA Service Writer)

PARIS, April 9.—The outstanding scheduled sporting event of the year for France is the Davis cup tournament, and feverish preparations are now being made to stage these matches with the thoroughness and dignity that has characterized them during the past several years in the United States.

The star players themselves are much nearer ready than the new Roland Garros stadium, where it is proposed to hold the finals.

Rene Lacoste, world's champion, and the only one of the Big Four of French tennis who is now in Paris, is practicing daily with a new model of his automatic serving machine. He has perfected his own invention, getting greater speed to the ball and a bigger variety of strokes. Although he has suffered from illness this winter, he is now in good health and says he is ready to defend his title.

Cochet in Top Form

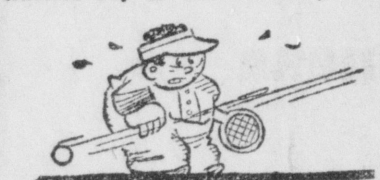

Henri Cochet has been cleaning up consistently in the Riviera tournaments ever since December and is now undertaking a severe course of training at his home in Lyons. He has remained in top form ever since he left America last fall.

Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, the other two members of the French team, are returning from Australia after a round-the-world tour. The fact that they did so well against the best of the Australian players has made the French optimistic of retaining the cup.

The chief rival for the possession of the cup is America. With new players being developed in the United States under Tilden's tutelage, the strength of the American team remains uncertain on this side, at least, but the French stars are all young and in their prime and there is much confidence here.

Progress Slow on Stadium

There is less optimism, however, about the new stadium. The contractors say it will be ready for the finals, but little progress has been made so far. The courts are laid out and the foundations being constructed, but work has not yet been started on the stands which, when completed, will have a seating capacity greater than any other French tennis ground.

The possession of the Davis cup by the French inspired this new stadium. The site is near the gate of Anteuil, within easy reach of the east of Paris, the best roads winding through the beautiful Bois de Boulogne.

Lacoste says he has been able to improve his game greatly with the aid of his automatic server. Accuracy, he says, is the greatest attribute for a champion and the machine is more useful to achieve this than playing against opponents.

Process is Explained "If I am playing against Borotra, 'he explained recently when he was giving the first exhibition here of his new machine on the hard courts of the Asnelles Tennis club, 'and I ask him to send me a lob to a certain height of the court so that I may practice smashing it, he may bat one out of five in the desired manner. But by using this machine I can get five out of five lobs that I want. It can be adjusted so that every ball comes over the net like the preceding one, and the player is enabled to practice indefinitely the strokes on which he is weakest."

The machine resembles a small gun, mounted on a wheeled carriage and the barrel pointed upwards. The balls are fed into the barrel from the top and are ejected from the bottom, one by one, by powerful springs as an operator turns a crank. It is possible to adapt it for use with an electric motor. The ball is caught by an arm, of which there are four, and these can be adjusted to give the ball the desired twists. Set screws affect the springs so as to regulate the force with which the ball is delivered, and the desired elevation is obtained by movable grips.

Ken Williams, former member of the St. Louis Browns, is now pastimating with the lowly Boston Red Sox and his hitting is expected to help the tailenders in their fight to extricate themselves from the American league basement.

PITCHERS FOR OPENING GAME ARE ANNOUNCED

NEW YORK, April 9.—Pitching selections for the opening day games, according to a poll of the major league managers today by the United Press, are:

American league Tuesday: Boston at Washington—Ruffing and Gaston.

Wednesday: St. Louis at Detroit—Gray and Whitehill.

Cleveland at Chicago—Uhle and Lyons.

New York at Philadelphia—Pennock or Hoyt and Grove.

National league: Pittsburgh at St. Louis—Kremer and Alexander.

Chicago at Cincinnati—Root and Luque.

Philadelphia at Brooklyn—Ferguson or Ring and Vance.

Boston at New York—Genevich or R. Smith and Benton.

Schwartz, Parra Collide Tonight

NEW YORK, April 9.—Corporal Lezy Schwartz, of New York, recognized by the New York state athletic commission as world's flyweight champion, meets Roudier Parra of Chile, flyweight champion of South America, in a 15-round title match at the St. Nicholas arena tonight. Schwartz is a 2 to 1 favorite.

British golf officials, despairing of winning the International Walker cup with their "old guard" of amateurs, are recruiting a team of young players to send to Chicago this summer to play Bobby Jones and his illustrious band of American stars.

It is quite possible that the British golf body is building for the future, as the French tennis people did in their successful campaign for the Davis cup.

The shrewd Frenchmen knew their veteran players were no match for the American team while Bill Tilden and Bill Johnston were in their prime, so they set about the task of building, patiently and carefully, for that future when the two great Americans would slip. When the Americans did slip, France had a quartet of young players, carefully and perfectly trained, who stepped in and won the world's championship.

The British are convinced that their best men of the older players do not make a team strong enough to beat Jones, Outin, Van Elim Evans, Gunn, Mackenzie and a flock of others. Apparently they are starting to get experience for the younger players to fit them for the future.

Among the new candidates for the team, whose appointment may be expected reasonable, are Dr. William Twedell, the present British champion; T. P. Perkins, the English champion; Rex and Lester Hartley, two of the most promising players, and Andrew Jamieson, the Scottish champion.

If Jamieson should come to this country he will attract quite a gallery because he is renowned in this country as more than the holder of a provincial championship.

IDEAL WEATHER BRINGS HEAVY PLAY IN GOLF

Real golfing weather brought out an unusually heavy turnout of Santa Ana Country club members Saturday and Sunday and the entry lists of the regular weekly sweepstakes competition were swelled materially.

Even with par, W. E. Chilson won the Class A ball sweepstakes yesterday at match play against par. E. C. D. Pettitt and L. D. Coffing, three down, tied for second. Carl Thrasher, S. R. Bowen and L. C. Denslow tied for fourth. They were all four down.

A. B. Watson, H. B. Van Dien and H. T. Richards tied for first place in Lorenz cup medal play. Van Dien had 84-12-73, Richards 88-16-22 and Watson 96-24-72.

Medal play sweepstakes Saturday developed some exceptionally close golf. President Van Dien and Homer Robinson split first honors in the Class A division with E. T. Matson and J. K. McDonald tied 12-72. Mater had 85-12-73 and for close up third honors, Robinson shot 78-6-72 and Van Dien 84-McDonald 82-9-73.

Van Pomeroy was best in the Class B field but he was hard pressed by a bevy of other golfers. A. B. Watson and H. T. Richards tied for second. G. J. Daley was fourth. Pomeroy's card read 89-18-71. Watson had 96-24-72. Richards shot 88-16-72 while Daley took in 91-18-73.

PAYNE NEW LEADER IN CROSS COUNTRY

TEXOLA, Okla., April 9.—A new leader, Andrew Payne, of Claremore, Okla., broke the trail to Sayre today in the thirty-seventh lap of C. C. Pyle's Los Angeles to New York foot race.

Payne gained the lead yesterday, replacing Arne Souminen, Detroit Finn, who dropped out with a strained tendon after leading the race for more than a week.

Payne won the race here yesterday from McLean, Texas, covering the 35 miles in 5:51:40. Peter Gavuzzi, England, finished second and assumed second position in the race.

Standings of the first five: Andrew Payne, Claremore, Oklahoma, 221:29:37.

Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, England, 224:54:29.

John Salo, Passaic, N. J., 242:18:14.

Philip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., 246:11:36.

Ed Gardner, Seattle, 246:15:35.

Matches scheduled this week for Santa Ana traveling league bowling teams follow:

Monday (Mercantile)—Alhambra vs. Hancock Gasoline at Santa Ana; Belvedere vs. Bear Cafe at Santa Ana; Kelly Roofing company at Tivoli alleys, Los Angeles.

Tuesday—Santa Ana Generals vs. Rawak Candy company at Santa Ana; Santa Ana Furniture company at Broadway alleys, Los Angeles.

ONCE BEAT BOBBY JONES

Jamieson is the young man who gave Bobby Jones a beating in the British amateur championship at Muirfield in 1926 when it seemed that nothing but Providence could keep the brilliant Bob from winning.

Jones in the round previous had passed what was considered to be the most formidable player in the tournament, Bob Harris, the British amateur champion, Jones sent the British writers into hysterics when he gave Harris the worst beating a defending champion had ever received in a championship tournament.

In the next round only a handful went out to follow Jones and Jamieson, as it looked like another kill. But there was a stampede for the course when word came from the tenth hole that Jones was going down.

When Jamieson came in the winner even the British golf writers had to seek him out and put him through a third degree to learn who he was and what he was and what right he had to beat the "wee Rab," as the Scots called Jones.

Captain R. H. Robson, who beat five international players reaching the semi-final round of the British amateur last year, and Dunstan Anderson, a long driver from London, also are probable members of the team.

REDMAN, COX TO HEADLINE NEW CARD AT DELHI

WEDNESDAY CARD
Main Event—Hal Cox vs. Jack Redman, 168 pounds.
Semi-windup—Jimmy Duffy vs. Ted Osborne, 133 pounds.
Preliminaries—Jim Rivers vs. Jack Price, 145 pounds; Paul Gomez vs. Mike Gallardo, 140 pounds; John Hernandez vs. Young Pappe Jr., 135 pounds; Amel Pora vs. Ted Harris, 138 pounds.

Jack Redman, a man of many aliases, will be the next victim of that active champion of all Pacific slope amateur light heavyweights, Hal Cox.

Redman is his real name. Several weeks ago he was a main event participant at "Doctor" Ellis' punch pavilion and he was introduced as Jack Henderson then. He met Mart Martin and all but ruined the protegee of Tommy McFarland.

His showing was so impressive, in fact, that Promoter Ellis has been after him ever since to be the recipient of Mr. Cox's swats and slams. Redman has been working hard for weeks for this engagement and he may be the fellow to halt the sensational winning spurt of the amateur titleholder.

Young Pappe, former four-round idol of Vernon, has lately gone into the business of handling amateurs and he will bring three of his boys to Delhi this week. Ted Osborn, his chief attraction, has been awarded a semi-windup spot with Jimmy Duffy as an opponent.

Papke's brother, Young Papke Jr., faces Johnny Hernandez, of Anaheim, in one of the preliminaries and Ted Harris gets Amel Pora, of Richfield, in the curtain-raiser.

Jim Rivers, the Fullerton favorite, has a hard fight on his hands this week if he would dispose of Jack Price, who was a main event performer at Delhi five years ago. He fought then as "Indian Jack" Price.

Paul Gomez and Mike Gallardo clash in the other bout.

Conference Stars To Meet Stanford

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—First and second place winners in the Southern conference track meet here will make up an All-Conference team to compete against Stanford at Stanford Saturday.

University of Southern California will meet California at Berkeley the same day. U. S. C. lost to Illinois Saturday, 64 to 62. Occidental won the Southern conference affair. Pomona was second and San Diego third.

Gill To Captain Bruin Track Men

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—Harry Gill, high jumper, has been named 1929 captain of the U. C. L. A. track team.

SEALS, SOLONS BOTH STOPPED; BEAVERS SPLIT

Inability to win both games of Sunday's doubleheader kept two teams of the Pacific Coast league from chalking up clean sweeps in the first seven games of the season.

San Francisco and Sacramento, both of which won their first five games, were defeated by Seattle and the Mission club, respectively. The Seals captured the opener, 7 to 1. Ten thousand fans packed Recreation park at the afternoon game to see San Francisco attempt to make it seven in a row. But the Indians knocked three pitchers all over the field to win, 9 to 5.

The Mission Bells turned the tables on the solons with two straight victories. Masterly pitching of Holling blanked Sacramento in the first, 3 to 0. In the afternoon, the Missions let the Senators get a 5 to 0 start and then began swinging bats, to win 10 to 7.

Oakland and Hollywood played 11 innings to a 2 to 2 deadlock in the early game. It was a pitching duel between Cecil Duff of the Oaks and Bill Murphy. The second game was a batfest, won in the ninth by Hollywood, 8 to 7.

Los Angeles split a double bill with Portland and won the series, four games to three. The Angels won the opener 5 to 3. The second contest was the best battle of the series in the Angel city. Portland was victorious, 6 to 3, in the eight inning contest.

BEATS BOYS

The boy players of Griswold, Iowa, high school weren't quite good enough to beat 15-year-old Alice Buckman out of a place. Alice plays right field on the team, and is a heavy hitter. So one of these days Babe Ruth may be out of a job.

ACCOUNTING OF CHAPMAN GROVE ASKED IN PLEA

Now you see it and now you don't. That seems to be the situation in a lawsuit launched today in Superior court, in which an accounting of the finances of the $175,000 C. C. Chapman orange property near Fullerton, is demanded.

The Indian Refining company, plaintiff, expressed a desire to have Chapman's two sons, Sydney and Clough, adjudged owners of one-third interest in the grove, but stated in the complaint that they have denied ownership and apparently do not want it.

The situation was somewhat different in 1925, however, and the two men were extremely anxious to prove that they did possess shares in the large ranch, the complaint stated. At that time they wished to make a purchase from the Indian Refining company, amounting to $5070.93. To prove their interest in the property, they had their father, C. C. Chapman, write a letter to the company, in which he alleged that his sons were part owners of the estate and that it was worth $175,000, the plaintiff declared.

But, it is charged, after the deal went through, they did not pay the $5070.93. The Indian Refining company went to court and

That cold may turn into "Flu," Gripe, or even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster; does the work without blister.

Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief. At the first sign of a cold in the head take Musterole Cold Tablets. They usually give prompt relief.

NANCY ELDER ATTENDS MEET OF "Y" WOMEN

The Santa Ana Young Woman's Christian association will be represented by Miss Nancy Elder, general secretary of the local branch, and Miss Mabel McFadden, president of the association, at a conference to be held this week at Asilomar and at the national convention to be held April 14 to 21 at Sacramento.

Miss Elder and Miss McFadden left today for Asilomar where they plan to attend the conference of the national association of employed officers of the Y. M. C. A.

They will remain at Asilomar until Friday when they will leave for Sacramento.

Speakers at the national convention will include Maude Royden of England, Dr. Albert Perry Brigham, professor emeritus of geology at Colgate University, the Rev. H. C. Phillips, pastor of the First Baptist church at Mount Vernon, N. Y., and Chester Rowell.

The convention will be presided over by Mrs. John M. Hanna of Dallas, Tex., president of the national association.

This is the first time since 1915 that the convention, which is a bi-annual affair, has been held on the western coast.

During Miss Elder's absence, Miss Helen McPeak will be in charge of the local Y. W. C. A.

Four Santa Ana junior college girls plan to leave the first of next week for the convention also. They are Miss Mary Bruner, Miss Joy Wilson, Miss Julia Cummings, and Miss Frances Reed.

VETERANS LAUNCH POLITICAL BODY

The Veterans Non-Partisan League of Orange county was today definitely launched as an independent organization as the direct result of a meeting Friday night in St. Ann's Inn in Santa Ana at which a permanent group was formed with Sam Collins, deputy district attorney, as president.

County-wide representation is included within the organization by the selection of five vice-presidents, who are to form an executive committee to advise and direct the president. Each supervisorial district in the county is represented by a vice president. Included in this group are Stanley Reinhaus, first district; R. S. Mitchell, Huntington Beach, second district; Hugh Miller, Fullerton, third district; Paul Muench, Orange, fourth district and M. B. Wellington, Lemon Heights, fifth district.

Frank Mason of Brea was appointed secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Discussion of the various aims and objectives of the organization revealed that it is open to all United States veterans of any wars, and that while it is a veteran's organization, it is definitely and entirely divorced from the American Legion.

Among its various objectives, as included in the constitution read at the meeting last night, will be to discourage the candidacy of veterans unfit for the public office, which they may seek and to encourage and back the candidacy of veterans, who are capable of holding public office effectively.

WEST ORANGE CLUB AGAINST ANNEXING PLAN

WEST ORANGE, April 9.—The annexation of West Orange to the city of Santa Ana was unanimously opposed at a meeting of the West Orange Neighborhood club Friday, when a resolution condemning the movement was adopted.

The club is a prominent social organization of West Orange and at the meeting, held at the home of W. A. Dyer, attention of the voters was called to the fact that the annexation election had been set for April 25 and that in all probability strong pressure would be brought to bear on residents here, by those interested in the annexation plan.

In the resolution it was set forth that no particular benefit would be gained by West Orange by the move, that taxes would be increased and agricultural activity decreased.

As West Orange is primarily an agricultural district, the disadvantage of having the ranches cut up by roadways that would be an expense to the ranch owners, was pointed out.

The annexation move was condemned as "a procedure in which the property owners of Orange would give all and receive nothing in return."

Dog Stands Guard At Master's Grave

RIVERSIDE, April 9.—The pathetic picture of a dog guarding the grave of its master in the Cavan hills near here until it, too, was claimed by death was painted to Sheriff Clem Sweeters.

The grave would bear investigation, the sheriff decided, so he and his posse set out for the hills.

An abandoned camping outfit was found, faint tracks of a wagon trailed off through the underbrush. The expedition felt itself on the point of discovery.

At the end of the trail they found the dead dog, but search as they would no grave could be discovered. "Well, I guess that our trip was not useless altogether," one officer remarked. "We found out that the dog was dead."

NEW THEATER IN BUENA PARK STARTED SOON

BUENA PARK, April 9.—Construction operations will be under way by April 16 on the new Buena Park theater, it was announced today by William E. Emlack, the owner. The building will be completed and ready for opening by the latter part of July, it is expected.

The site is at Grand avenue and Fifth street and the cost is estimated at $45,000. It will be 50 by 120 feet and will have a seating capacity of 500.

Two store rooms will be located on either side of the theater lobby. The theater will have a large stage. The new theater will be similar to the one in Norwalk.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR ORANGE DISCUSSED

ORANGE, April 9.—The opening of streets, general improvements and means to beautify the city were the principal subjects discussed at the second meeting here of the newly appointed planning commission.

In the absence of the president of the board, William Prentiss, Jr., the vice president, A. H. Helm, presided at the meeting, which was devoted to an informal discussion of conditions in general.

The next meeting of the board will be held the first Friday in May at the city hall.

DRY HOLE FOR CYPRESS TEST WELL IS SEEN

CYPRESS, April 9.—Reports that indications point to a "duster" on the Miller lease were in circulation today. The drill has reached a depth of 3700 feet and beyond a few scattered showings, no oil formations have been encountered, it is said.

The wildcat is being drilled by the Ohio Oil company, which has a large tract under lease. Practically all of the land in the vicinity is being under lease.

The next two weeks should tell whether or not the Ohio company has an oil well, it is believed.

COAST GROUP TO TAKE UP PUBLICITY

COSTA MESA, April 9.—Matters pertaining to the advertising of Orange county coast communities will be discussed at a regular meeting of the Orange County Coast association at the Woman's clubhouse here Thursday evening. J. S. Farquhar, of Huntington Beach, chairman of the advertising committee, will present a detailed report of the work of his committee.

Other matters of interest, including the report of the transportation committee, which has been working to secure the routing of Los Angeles to San Diego stages along the coast, will be given. Members of the Costa Mesa Friday Afternoon club will serve the dinner.

CROWDS THROG BEACH AS BALMY WEATHER CONTINUES COLLEGIATE WEEK SUCCESS

NEWPORT BEACH, April 9.—Vacation crowds which thronged the beach here the past week were in evidence again today with continued balmy weather, according to a report from G. C. Macleod, secretary of the chamber of commerce. Ideal beach weather has caused many families to start their summer vacations early, Macleod said.

While many of the college students who were here during the past week have returned to their studies, many other parties have arrived and merchants of the city believe that the summer season is starting now. Usually the houses do not begin to fill up until late in May or early in June.

During the past week, designated by the chamber of commerce as collegiate week, a series of races, dancing contests and other features were staged. Yesterday, two eight oar rowing crews from the San Diego Rowing club gave a demonstration race on the bay. Swimming races, canoe races, canoe tilting and other sports were sponsored during the week by the chamber of commerce.

Directors of the chamber will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the Bank of Balboa when reports of various committees will be given.

WOMAN JAILED ON SPEEDING CHARGE

SEAL BEACH, April 9.—Mrs. Selma Brown, 25, who gave her address as 2330 Locust avenue, Long Beach, appeared before Judge B. B. Brown last week charged with speeding within the city limits of Seal Beach March 15. She was sentenced to spend 50 days in jail or pay a fine of $50. She was taken to Santa Ana to serve her sentence.

Mrs. Brown had successfully evaded the Seal Beach police since the date of her summons into court, March 19. PLACENTIA WATER SALE IS DENIED PLACENTIA, April 9.—Rumors that the Placentia Water company's properties in Placentia, supplying this city with its domestic water, had been sold, were denied today by Charles E. Lee, manager and largest stockholder of the local company. Lee said that the company had received an offer from the Chicago interests who recently acquired the water plant at Olive, but declared that the offer had been declined. It has been rumored in Placentia that there was a deal pending at a price of $50,000 for the plant. Since Lee acquired control of the local water system about six months ago, his company has expended nearly $5000 in improvements. Forty new meters at a cost of approximately $1800 have been installed, a new pumping equipment has been put in and several pieces of new three inch line have been laid down.

NAVEL ORANGE CROP IS SOLD FOR $180,000

ANAHEIM, April 9.—Though navel and other varieties are fast losing their importance in this section, approximately 129 cars of this type of fruit, bringing returns to growers estimated at approximately $180,000, were handled by Anaheim's major packing houses during the season just closed, a survey revealed this morning.

The houses reporting with the number of cars of both navels and miscellaneous varieties shipped and the estimated amounts to be returned to the district for same are as follows: Olive Fruit company, Anaheim house, 79 cars navels, two cars miscellaneous, $30,000; Anaheim Citrus Fruit association, 261-3 cars, $45,000; Anaheim and Orange Lemon association, 15 cars, $21,000; Anaheim Co-Operative Orange association, $15,806.11 and the Ritchie-Mills Packing company, 8 cars, approximately $10,000.

With the new crop valencias not yet up to the standard sugar content, at least in most parts of this district and with northern California navels and miscellaneous varieties still plentiful on the eastern markets, local packing houses are not expected to do much business until the latter part of this month or the first of May.

One car of early-ripened fruit has already been shipped by the Olive Fruit company, from the Anaheim house, but shipping during the balance of the month will be extremely conservative depending upon the ripening of the fruit and eastern marketing conditions, Manager A. J. Miller said this morning.

Neighborhood Children Enjoy Their Annual Easter Party

Easter may bear its special significance of worship and flowers to most people, but to the children living in the neighborhood of Miss Mary B. Lockhart's home at 618 West Second street, it means their annual party and afternoon of games with Miss Lockhart as hostess.

Several years ago Miss Lockhart instituted the pleasant custom of entertaining the youngsters of the neighborhood, who come regularly to her little home grocery, the U. S. Serve-You for their parents. At first the party called together a dozen or so children, but the 1928 event celebrated Saturday afternoon, was attended by nearly a hundred happy young guests.

And how they did enjoy it! They romped on the lawn and played all manner of games, and then at a signal from Miss Lockhart, they quieted down to listen to a program of music and recitations.

Leslie Duval gave the first number, a nicely played violin solo, "Moonlight and Roses." Then Evelyn and Betty Taylor did a cunning little dance as they sang "School Days." Marguerite Barker played an "Hawaiian Love Song" on the steel violin, showing a decided skill, and Russell Elliott was quite as proficient on the violin, playing "Ach Du Lieber Augustin."

Dorothy Kinney and Ardath Slaughter each gave a pretty recitation, while Cleo Belle Brown's "Lullaby" and equally pretty songs by Harriet Plummer, Lucille Dehne and Quentin Slaughter were enjoyed. Jeanette Brown gave an amusing reading, "How Sockery Set the Hen." Mrs. Elliott, one of the little group of older folk who shared the fun of the party, read "The Wedding Fee."

The children were then invited into the store, where a large table was laden with the most brilliant Easter eggs imaginable, and light in their midst was a sedate white bunny, who wriggled her nose and jerked her ears in the proudest kind of a manner as the children exclaimed over her beautiful eggs.

Miss Lockhart had arranged for each young guest to have one of the pretty eggs, a small loaf of bread, an ice cream brick and candy, and was aided in distributing these as the children marched past by her sister and houseguest, Mrs. B. B. Steele of Los Angeles, and others in the group, which included Mrs. J. H. Russell, Mrs. C. H. Slaughter, Mrs. H. W. Wright, Mrs. J. E. Wolff, Mrs. W. Wood, Mrs. Elliott and Miss Vera Patmore.

Among the children gathered for the party were Frances Dunn, Margaret Dunn, Betty Hobbard, Margaret Garrett, Barbara Posten, Paulette Nolan, June Bruner, Lucille Black, Ardath Slaughter, Betty Jean Spahnower, Winifred Young, Betty Jessie Corn, Lucille Dehne, Evelyn Taylor, Betty Taylor, Bessie Kinney, Marjorie Foster, Zoe Kinney, Frances Slaughter, Norma Area, Eunice Knox, Burton Hackleton, Tom Corn, Eugene Boggs, Eva May Boggs, Jimmie Russell, Joe Sanford Jr., Lorena Fogle, Billie Lonnin, Edna Sheeley, Erma Lee Barker, Florence Spaenower, Geraldine Wood, Lucille Tibbs, Doris Rogers, Hope Hackleton, Joe Baker, Bobbie Thompson, Bobbie Livingston, Waldo Posten, Robert Renfrow, Russell Elliott, Leslie De Vaul, Buddie McInnes, D. McInnes, Richard Corn, Frank Black, Winford Brown, Jay Rogers, Stewart Harrison, Arthur Gathens, Wendell McInnes, Gwendoly Fox, Gwendoly Foster, Lucille Taylor, Cleo Belle Brown, Eddie Nolan, Chester Rowlett, Ralph Hayden, Robert Elliott, Alvin Dehne, Sam Osteen, Leonard Lockhart, Charles Carillo Jr., Clyde Shillet, George McCarthy Jr., Tom Hixon, Harriet Plummer, Betty Juanita Wright, Junior Wright, Buddy Taylor, Ernest Osteen, Richard Thompson, Jimmie Russell, Bobbie Wood, Billie Howell, Jack Howell, Donald Holderman, Bobby Wolff, Lee Adolph Holmes and Billy Wolff.

Several weeks ago, invitations were extended Orange county Blue lodge Masons and their wives, to be guests of the Scottish Rite bodies in Long Beach, at a performance by the "Spotlight Players" and the night of Thursday, April 12, was set.

Local Masons have been anticipating the event ever since, and a large crowd is planning to drive to the beach city on Thursday night for the dramatic event. The play, "The Lucky Break" has been chosen, and those taking part are all Long Beach people.

Invitations have been sent out to all Orange county Masons whose names the Scottish Rite bodies could learn, but those holding 1928 cards yet who failed to receive the written notice, are reminded that they are included in the party, and may attend as freely as those who received cards.

W. C. T. U.
Since Flower Mission day is to be celebrated tomorrow afternoon by the W. C. T. U. when it meets in the First M. E. church, Mrs. Florence Potter has written a special song which is to be sung at the services, to the tune of "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Mrs. Potter, who is an ardent church and temperance worker, has written many such songs. The one to be sung tomorrow is as follows:

Flower Mission Song
Onward Temperance women
Fighting for the right,
Do not be discouraged,
Work with all your might,
Prayer the greatest helper,
Leads against the foe,
Forward is our motto,
See how well we go.

Flowers and trees shall perish
Nations rise and fall,
But our heavenly Father
Watches over all.
We will work in temperance,
And our cause maintain,
Doing it so thoroughly,
Cannot long remain.

"Tis the flower mission day
Of this temperance band,
Scatter buds and blossoms
Into every hand.
What a mighty army,
All one body we,
Trying to help each other
With our charity.

CHURCH WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS CLUBS FRATERNAL FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD

ELEANOR YOUNG ELLIOTT

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

Here's another sweet young thing who thinks she's worth $15,000. She offers to wed any man with that amount. Her "ad" read "my love and affection for $15,000." The ad went on to explain that she needed the money to lift the mortgage from her mother's home and to educate her small son.

First of all, anyone knows perfectly well that no matter how sincere she may wish to be and how fair a bargain make, it is humanly impossible to "give my life and affection" simply because a man has $15,000 which he is willing to spend on such a deal.

"IT'S CAUSE I LOVE YOU"

"But when I hate you, it's 'cause I love you." So runs a line from a popular song. One finds treacherous philosophy in popular dress all the time. Another classic ditty says, in part, "I'm tired of livin'. But 'frail of dyin'." Shakespeare said little more with his w. k. "to be or not to be."

Is it unfortunate that today's medium of thought is the rather tawdry, trashy dress of "popular music"? Or is it fortunate that amid the many vulgarities and cheapnesses of modern songs, just an occasional redeeming feature crops forth, even if it is no more than the old Hamlet philosophy expressed a bit more snappily?

MRS. BERTHA LANDES

Women leaders have urged all women voters to vote for the person and not the sex; to vote for a man candidate who seems to offer more to his community than a woman candidate up for the same office, and to be not at all reluctant to defeat a woman official who has not made good.

The recent defeat of Mrs. Bertha K. Landes for re-election to the office of mayor of Seattle, Wash., makes one wonder if men are playing as fair with women candidates and officeholders. Sometimes one suspects that hordes of men will do anything to overthrow a woman in office, no matter what her record has been. Mrs. Landes' record, for instance, seemed so consistently good that one can explain her defeat only by male reluctance to have a woman govern them.

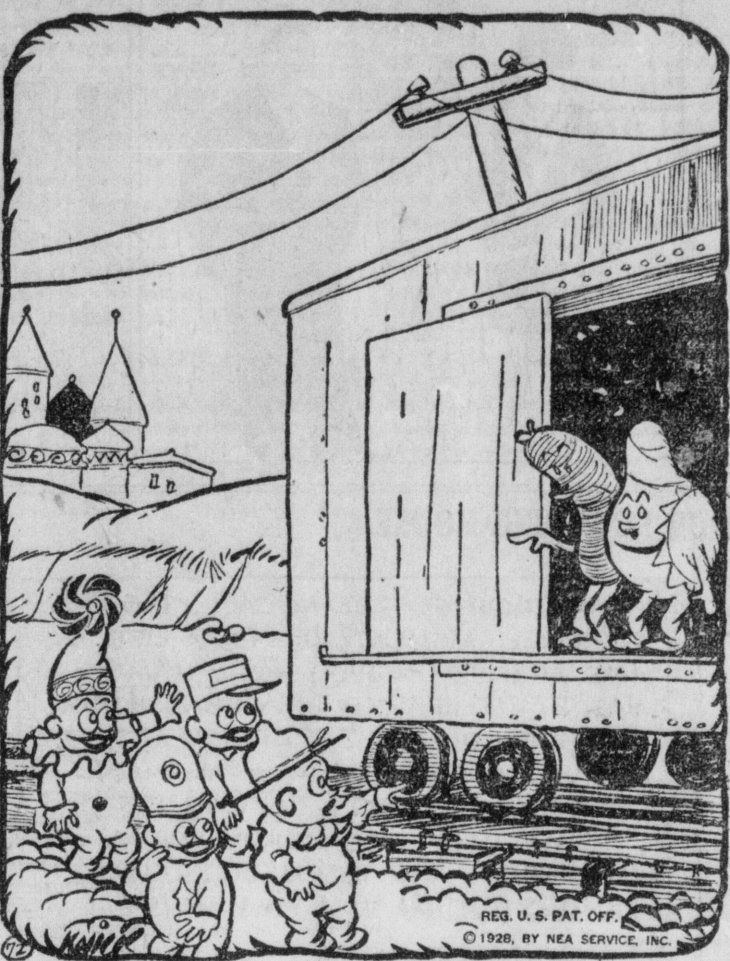

WE NEED A DROP

There will be no winter and summer in our homes of the future, if science can work out a plan suggest by Prof. Ellsworth Huntington of Yale. He demonstrates that it is neither high nor low temperatures that keep us healthy or unhealthy, but a constant change in temperatures. If the thermometer stayed at rather an ideal winter and summer temperature, the death rate would be high.

But if ideal temperature fluctuates by even one degree or so from day to day, the death rate drops to almost zero. A drop from 20 degrees to zero means as much as a drop from 90 to 70, he says. What our homes need, therefore, is an automatic device to give us these ups and downs from a selected ideal temperature.

THE TINYMITES STORY by MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KNICK

(Read The Story, Then Color The Picture)

The queer parade moved right along, and not one little thing went wrong. The butcher said, "You Tinymites can trail along behind. The meats are leaving on their merry way. They're heading for the station, where a train they're going to find."

"Come on," yelled Scouty, "fall right in." The butcher then began to grin to see the band of Tinymites do just as they were told. "I guess I'll go along," said he, "to see what fun there's going to be. 'Tis well it isn't far 'cause I am getting pretty old."

Then Clowny said, "Oh, no, you're not. That's just a heap of tommy rot. Don't say you're old, although the years may very quickly pass. Just live as happy as can be. 'Twill help to keep you young, you see. Whoever does that sort of thing's a happy lad or lass."

The butcher promptly shook his head. "That's very good advice," he said. "There's happiness on earth for all. 'Tis foolish to be sad. I've watched you Tinymites quite a while. I'm glad to see you always smile. It's best to see the good side of all things, and not the bad."

Just then the queer freight car was reached. "Oh, here we are!" one small sam screeched. "We're going for a long, long ride. That ought to be real fun. Inside that car we'll soon be stored. Come on, now, let's all hop aboard." And, while the Tines watched them all the meats began to run.

The sight was one that made them grin. The meats all scrambled to get in. When they were all on board the butcher man exclaimed, "Hurray!" And then the train moved out real slow. The

WEST COAST-WALKER

Laughter for laughter's sake is the keynote of Clara Bow's new comedy of American life which opened at the West Coast-Walker yesterday.

That vivacious, lovely and startling star of "It" again romps along in typical mad-cap fashion as a lovable and loving "goldigger". The same combination that "It" is responsible for "Red Hair"; Elinor Glyn wrote it; Clara Bow stars; Clarence Badger directed.

The name Clara Bow is a twentieth century magnetizer wherever the cinema is known, because this talented artist truly represents the modern flapper age and its attendant juvenile eccentricities.

Elinor Glyn first discovered she had it. Then made "It" with the directorial assistance of Clarence Badger. Now the whole world knows that Clara had so much "It". There was enough left over to make "Red Hair" which has "It," "them" and "those."

WEST END THEATER

All that has been claimed for it and more, was the verdict of the audience which witnessed the showing of "7th Heaven" at the West End yesterday afternoon.

This marvelous love story, that for sheer simplicity can not be surpassed easily, carries to the heights of stardom Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell. These two give a performance that surpasses in simple sincerity almost any that has yet been done on the screen. The wistful beauty of Janet Gaynor, smiling through her tears, weary of body and soul, but still climbing hopefully with Chico up the winding stairs to 7th Heaven is something all critics, no matter how hard-boiled, have praised.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER
It would look as if the term, "the silent screen," used in connection with motion pictures, would soon have to go into the discard. Those who have not heard vitaphone have heard of it and know it as the instrument which absolutely synchronizes motion and sound. Warner Bros., who control this marvelous instrument, have been using it heretofore in supplying the musical accompaniment of their feature pictures.

In getting up the Al Jolson picture, "The Jazz Singer," now showing at the Yost Broadway theater, they went several steps further and brought vitaphone into active participation in the work. The result is that one not only sees Jolson, but hears the voice that has made the mammy song a national institution. During the course of the picture Jolson sings six numbers and the applause that follows the rendition of each of the numbers is probably greater than the celebrated comedian ever received in the flesh. One of the numbers, "Mother, I Still Have You," has taken its place among the great Jolson hits.

SAN CLEMENTE PAVING WORK FINISHED SOON

SAN CLEMENTE, April 9.—The extensive paving program which has been outlined for the Spanish village is well under way, according to William Ayer and work will be carried to completion as rapidly. The paving crew is working around the Spanish plaza at the present time and this work represents several miles of concrete paving.

When this paving is completed, the Spanish plaza will be one of the most attractive spots in San Clemente, according to those who have seen it. The plaza is three-eighths of a mile in circumference and is highly developed with rare and exotic trees, flowers and shrubs. In the center is a large lagoon and at each corner of the pool there are ornamental fountains. The landscaping is almost complete, according to Robert Gore.

Old Timers Will Honor Dr. J. Boyd

Old Timers throughout Orange county are expected to gather at Orange county park next Saturday when a picnic will be held there in honor of Dr. J. P. Boyd of 501 North Main street.

The event will mark the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of Dr. Boyd's coming to Santa Ana. It will also mark the completion of forty years of practice in this county during which time Dr. Boyd has made many friends.

Arrangements for the picnic are being made by James S. Rice, Percy Rice, and William G. Mitchell who are among Dr. Boyd's best friends.

The picnic luncheon will be served at noon on the long tables beneath the oak trees at the park.

Says Helen Of Troy Is Copied

NEW YORK, April 7.—American girls would be infinitely more happy if they were less like Helen of Troy, in the opinion of Mme. Elisabeth Rethberg, Metropolitan Opera star, who is at present engrossed in preparation incidental to introducing the famous Greek lady to the operatic stage.

Mrs. Rethberg has been approved by Richard Strauss, Viennese composer, for the prima donna and title role in his latest opus, "The Egyptian Helen," based on the life of Paris' sweetheart. The Metropolitan star will sing "Helen" at the world premiere of the Strauss work in Dresden, Germany, in June, after which she will introduce "Mrs. Menelaus" to audiences on this side of the water.

Mme. Rethberg holds the opinion that American girls lead the world in charm, beauty, fashion, brains and achievement—but that they are far behind their cousins of other countries when it comes to true happiness and contentment. Like Helen of Troy, says the opera star, the American girl is never quite satisfied. She continues, undaunted, in her quest for thrills, excitement and something new, overlooking genuine happiness enroute.

Upon tomorrow,
But take whatever comes to thee,

ANONYMOUS WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENTS

One of the marked changes which have come about in the reports that emanate from Washington these days is the sameness which marks all the material now being sent out by the correspondents of the great newspapers of the country. It would seem to be a needless expense for a great journal to keep a special correspondent at the seat of government, for there is little that is personal in anything that is sent to his paper. So far as we can observe, the stereotyped reports which are being given out from Washington these days might just as well be cared for by the United Press, the Associated Press, or the International News Service, rather than by individual correspondents.

There is practically no criticism and no independent opinion being expressed by the correspondents. A terrible fear seems to have fallen upon the whole newspaper corps in Washington, lest they may express an opinion which is not acceptable to the agencies which parcel out the news. It is well known that a correspondent who offends the heads of departments in Washington, or the administration, finds a great many doors closed against him. The reports emanating from Washington might just as well be written for a Republican paper like the Los Angeles Times or the Chicago Tribune as for a Democratic paper like the New York World or the Cleveland Plaindealer.

This is very unfortunate, for it is a good thing to have vital discussion of all policies whether they are in accord with ours or not. It so happens, however, because of the failure of the correspondents of the great dailies, there has grown up a system of anonymous correspondence on the part of the well-known weeklies. Some of the best correspondence which is coming out of Washington these days is being printed in weeklies like the New Republic, the Independent, the Outlook, and the Nation. The men who write this correspondence are alert, well-informed, fearless and independent. Their anonymity makes it impossible for the administration or the departments to discipline them or cut them off. They ask no official's leave what they may report, and what criticism they may make.

It is a pity that the great mass of newspaper readers over the country are unable to avail themselves of this rich Washington service. From them we may get about the actual situation as it exists, and while we may not always agree with their criticisms or their inferences, it is good to get something other than the uniform and the colorless reports which have recently been sent out from the seat of government.

LAW HANDMAIDEN OF LIBERTY

The San Bernardino Sun had an interesting discussion the other day. It stated as follows:

The president of the Stockton chamber of commerce has announced that henceforth none of the funds of that civic organization will be expended for the purchase of liquor in the entertainment of guests of the chamber.

The announcement is greeted by a dull thud. There is no thought, and there needs to be none, of applause for the announcement. Attention is centered on the admission, that goes with such a statement, that in the past liquor has been purchased for distinguished guests.

It is claimed in Stockton that it is a general practice on the part of chambers of commerce throughout the country to provide liquor for the entertainment of certain visiting delegations.

For such an organization as a chamber of commerce, generally the body that represents the spirit of the community, to violate the eighteenth amendment reflects a situation so discreditable memberships of chambers of commerce must be amazed. It is difficult to believe that chambers of commerce generally are a party to any such transactions.

Certainly there are within the ranks of chambers of commerce everywhere men who would not tolerate such a situation by an organization in which they hold membership. Certainly the rank and file of such civic organizations would not support a directorate that uses funds contributed by law-abiding citizens, to patronize bootleggers.

If guests are entitled to be regarded as distinguished they are not looking for bootlegger's booze. If they are looking for booze they cannot be citizens worthy of any particular attention.

We are quite amazed at reading the statement which forms the foundation and which is a part of the above editorial. We believe that a great body of citizens in our country and particularly in the dry sections are thoroughly in sympathy with law observance. They have little sympathy and certainly no support to give any group of men or any enterprise which is cheek-by-jowl with criminals. A patriotism that does not recognize that law is the handmaiden of liberty, is a spurious patriotism. No man who deliberately violates the law has a moral right to claim protection from violators of the law. If there is anything worse and more criminal in its character than individual bootlegging, it is the organizations which, under the guise of hospitality, violate the same law wholesale. This puts the stamp of approval upon it from the group angle; it undermines respect for law in the minds of otherwise fine citizens, and eats away insidiously at the very roots of our institutions.

A man may violate the law impulsively, thoughtlessly, and may be a fine citizen at heart; he may have made a slight mistake and yet in the main be right and be a good citizen, but he cannot deliberately break down respect for law in this country and have any claim to the floor to talk about patriotism, except it be by way of apology.

WILL SHE DO IT?

Tomorrow Chicago has an opportunity to redeem itself. The question that Chicago itself will answer tomorrow is whether there is virility enough in its citizens to break the apparent strangle hold which the crime forces have upon it. Mayor Thompson of Chicago, in his statement that he would resign if Judge Swanson were elected, because he knew that there would be prosecutions, makes the most abject confession of political fear of which we have heard in many years. That statement was both an endorsement of Swanson and a condemnation of State's Attorney Crowe. It has come to pass in the development of this great city in Cook county, that the state's attorney (district attorney) has become in some respects the most powerful factor politically in the state. He has more patronage at his disposal than the mayor of the city or than the governor of Illinois, and it is steadfastly believed that the present incumbent of the office is responsible for the tremendous increase of violent crime in the city. The present state's attorney and "Big Bill" Thompson, the mayor, are wheels in the same political machine.

The economic, industrial, and commercial interests of Chicago have learned, since the election of Mayor Thompson, that his election has seriously injured the city and unless he is repudiated, this injury will increase. There is little doubt in the minds of those who have studied the situation seriously but that there are decent voters in sufficient number in Chicago to throw off the yoke under which they are struggling, but thousands of these have been too indifferent, negligent, and lazy to go to the polls to express their sentiments. The organized gangsters of the city know that the hope of the continuance of their reign lies in getting their vote out, and they will be there. From scores of pulpits in Chicago, and regardless of creed, there were thundered forth messages yesterday calling upon the people to repudiate their false officials. Will they do it?

In the conditions that have resulted in Chicago the people throughout our country may be able to learn an important lesson. While there is no other city where crime has become so rampant, yet just in proportion as the people are indifferent and negligent of their civic duties, officials fail in doing their full duty, and many times fall into temptation. President Harrison at one time said that no form of government had been devised which would work when all the people went away and left it. He was right.

BECAUSE LEGS IS LEGS

A beauty specialist in Chicago has announced that only eight per cent of the women have beautiful legs; that twenty-three out of twenty-five women have ugly legs. This specialist says that eighteen per cent are knock-kneed, twenty per cent have sack legs, nine per cent bow legs, fourteen per cent grand piano legs, twenty-nine per cent spike legs.

One of the most baffling questions of the day, then, is why do ninety per cent of the women expose their legs. Is it because legs are legs and an expose of leg is always interesting even if not beautiful? Is it because they have a leg illusion and think their legs are beautiful, absolutely blind to the truth of the matter; having for them something of the same loving adoration a mother has for her child even though it have a face that only a mother can love? Is it really shyness—a feeling that to follow the style and wear their dresses to their knees regardless of the shortcomings of their legs is less conspicuous than being utterly different from everyone else and wearing their dresses long?

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

THE MORNING STAR

"Every child who is perfectly clean, clean face, clean neck and ears, clean hands and nails, hair brushed and shoes shined, will get a gold star each morning and when you get a whole lot you can take your choice of prizes out of the prize box."

Miss Jane was young and very much alive to her duty. The training school teachers had made a point of this morning inspection, the principal had stressed the cleanliness of pupils, the inspection each morning. The nurse had emphasized the necessity for immaculate skin and hair and nails. Miss Jane was determined to see that her class was up to the standard and even above it. If stars would do it, stars they should have.

"Hands, feet, up tall," said she and fifty pairs of hands were extended at chest level, fifty pairs of feet turned out to the side. Up and down between the rows the teachers went scrutinizing the little hands and the stubby little feet thrust out for her inspection. So intent was she upon them that she did not see the look of pleading, of prayer, that came into some of the eyes that gazed solemnly up at her.

"Not so good. Nails aren't very clean. A little more soap, Benny. Brush your hair a little more tomorrow, Becky. No, no Max. Those shoes haven't been touched in a week."

As she neared Louis' seat he squirmed. He turned in the ends of his fingers and hid his toes up under his bench. His cheeks shone scarlet under a smudge of gray.

"Why Louis, you never washed your hands. Or your face. And look at your shoes. I can't have such a dirty little boy in my class. Go stand over there by the window on the bad line."

Now Miss Jane did not know. She did not mean to be cruel. No training school leader, no text book, no experience had ever taught her that Louis had nobody to wash his hands or to see that he did it. She had never thought about WHO prepared little boys for school or what happened when there was nobody to do it. Louis was a mess and she didn't want him spoiling the appearance of her class so, out he went on the bad line. The cleanest children each got golden stars, the next cleanest got blue ones. Louis had to sit in the back seat and get no star. He went off in a corner of the yard to cry about it at recess time and Miss Maria found him.

"I can't get a morning star because I'm dirty and I can't help it because my mother isn't home and neither is my father. Oo-oo-hoo-hoo," sobbed Louis.

"Well, never mind. You come early tomorrow and I'll fix you up so you'll get a star too. Where is your mother? The hospital? Well, well. Never mind. You'll get a star tomorrow. Come early." Louis wiped his face on his dirty sleeve and said he would.

If mother washes and trims you up should you get a morning star? And if your mother is in the hospital and you can't help yourself much, ought you to be cast into outer darkness? Isn't there some way out?

More Truth Than Poetry

SYMPATHY

A scientist has found a way to cure vegetable ailments with pills.

Full often I've risen from dearly earned rest
When the night was uncommonly chill
And hunted around in the medicine chest
To find a slick baby a pill

I probably muttered and grumbled a lot
For my temper's not easy to keep,
But I never regretted the cold that I got
If I put the poor kiddo to sleep.
I fondly gazed down at the slumbering lad
And felt I was really a pretty good dad.

When the puppy from illness grew sad and unstrung
And became a poor pitiful wreck
I have pressed with a spoon on his little red tongue
While I poured healing drops down his neck.
I hated this task from the depth of my soul
I was grieved by his whimpering cough
And one's temper is often quite hard to control
When a dog bites his finger half off.
But I knew all the while that my duty was plain
And was glad I had eased the poor creature of pain.

But if ever my lettuce and turnips grow ill
Will I rush madly down to the lot
And give to each languishing plantlet a pill?
I hereby declare I will not!
They can't break my heart with their piteous cries
As their internal anguish they tell
No matter how sick, they'll appear in my eyes
Exactly as when they were well.
And if to their ailments at last they succumb
It will be their own fault; they are so doggone dumb!

LESSON IN PATRIOTISM

The fact that Paris divorcees are becoming more difficult to obtain ought not to discourage Americans. The home made article is still cheap and plentiful.

Dr. Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

THE GREATEST BUSINESS

The greatest business in the world anywhere and at any time is the business of educating and training the young. Just as the household centers about its children in all its hopes and plans, just as for them the father works and the mother sacrifices, so in the case of a nation everything should turn about the improvement of its young people.

On them and on their fitness rests the future safety of the nation more than on any plans or schemes or institutions which their fathers may set in motion.

Always the character of a people has more to do with the success of a nation than the institutions or customs it may have, or the defense which it may possess.

A recent press statement was to the effect that two hundred and fifty American cities having over 30,000 population each, spent on public schools in 1926, $607,000,000, or one-third of their income. That sounds like a good deal of money, but it is only $6.30 per capita in big cities, which is less than we spend on chewing gum.

What we spend money for is the best sign of what we desire most.

A Britisher the other day gave five hundred thousand pounds to his government to be applied toward the English debt. This was an unparalleled act of patriotism. Men will give their lives for their country, while few are willing to give money.

So we orate and write and grow enthusiastic over our public schools. But the test of our appreciation of them comes best by spending money on them.

The school teacher should be better paid and he should rank higher in the community than he does.

The superintendent of public schools should be the best paid official in the city and the most carefully selected. And he needs to be a person of more outstanding ability than the mayor.

The school buildings should be, and in some places are, the most remarkable pieces of architecture in a community.

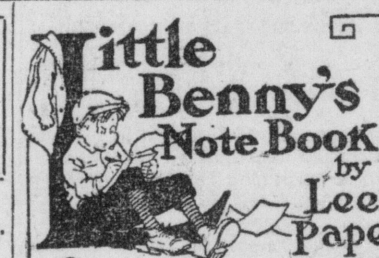

Every city should have plenty of playgrounds for children. To the credit of America it is said that it has more juvenile publications and printed matter, especially for the reading of children, than has any other country.

Every man and woman ought to be in some way connected with assisting the younger generation to make good.

School teaching or the training of the young is far and away the most important business of the country.

The other day Mr. Parkins and my sister Gladis got engaged to be married, and since then he has bin staying at our house a lot for supper, on account of being a future member of the family and properly thinking he mite as well get use to it, and last nite me and him was in the front room waiting for Nora to ring the dinner bell for supper, and Mr. Parkins sed, Well Benny, I suppose you know you'll be having a brother in law one of these days.

Who, you? I sed.
Nobody else, I hope, Mr. Parkins sed. Do you realize there is a angel in your family? he sed.
Gee, you dont mean Gladis, do you? I sed.

That's the very person I'm alluding to, Mr. Parkins sed, and I sed, Holy smokes, Gladis a angel.

Ah well, that's life for you, Mr. Parkins sed. The people who live with an angel are blinded by her close proximity and cant even see her, while a stranger dazzled from afar bares her off and is happy ever after, he sed.

Well G winnickers, wats angel about her I sed.

Everything without exception, her spottless character, her bewty of sole and face, the gracefulness of her slightest movement, the very sound of her marvellous voice, Mr. Parkins sed.

But G roozleem, I sed.
Meaning wat? Mr. Parkins sed.
Nothing I sed. Thinking, O well, if he's going to marry her he'll find out for himself.

Wich jest then everybody came down including Gladis on account of the bell ringing for supper, being chicken properly on account of Mr. Parkins, me looking to see if Gladis ate like a angel, wich if she did theres nothing a matter with angels appetites.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

THE IRISH LEONARDO

For two delightful days I have lounged and laughed and adventured in far worlds of thought and fancy with that most delightful of living Irishmen, George W. Russell, even better known as A.E.

He is a perfect house-guest, with all the charm and none of the caprice of genius; despite the Ariel quality of his mind, his physical wants are Spartan in their simplicity, his social habits about the house as normal as the habits of a Maine farmer.

He is a kind of Irish Leonardo da Vinci, a man whose spirit has refused to become the prisoner of any specialism.

Leonardo da Vinci, it will be remembered, was many men in one; here are a few of the things he was:

Sculptor.
Poet.
Epigrammatist.
Engineer.
Statesman.
Soldier.
Musician.

The central tragedy of our time is that we can neither create nor comprehend such men; we moderns are at best but super-specialists.

But in this time, blindly devoted to the limited efficiencies of the specialist, A.E. has contrived to recapture something of the spirit of Leonardo.

Like Leonardo—who, as artist, took the trouble to dissect ten cadavers to follow the course of a few veins—A.E. is no mere dabbler in the superficialities of the arts, the sciences, and the social explorations of his time.

Whatever this gracious Irishman turns his hand to, he does well, although he does it with that disguised thoroughness, that seeming effortlessness of the artist, that the plodding specialist will never quite understand.

In all his varied roles—as poet, painter, critic, journalist, editor of The Irish Statesman, unofficial political seer, and organizer of co-operatives among Irish farmers—A.E. maintains what Paul Valery calls that "central attitude from which all the enterprises of learning and science and all the operations of art are equally possible."

If I may steal two of A.E.'s own phrases, in his ministry to the spirit and government of modern Ireland, the politics of time and the politics of eternity meet in a mythical union from which a singularly practical progeny springs. I commend to those American writers who write of the American scene, A.E.'s little book called The National Being, Some Thoughts on an Irish Polity. We wait for someone to think creatively, in this manner, about the American future.

Movies to be a Great Help to Education

Sacramento Bee

The educational value of movies, in various ways, is fast increasing. Already the screen has been used to a large extent for scientific purposes, making plain to every audience many things for which a mere description would not suffice.

Now it is announced that the University Film Foundation, organized by Harvard Alumni and members of the Harvard staff, will begin with a series of films illustrative of the fundamentals of botany, zoology, chemistry, physics, geology, geography, astronomy, fine arts, etc.

These will be for the use of schools, colleges, libraries, museums, churches and clubs throughout the nation, and cannot fail to be of much benefit.

A later series of films from the same source will relate to public health, medicine, physical education, industry and commerce.

For a long time past, in addition to the films shown in the regular movie theaters for entertainment merely, the screen has helped materially to interest its patrons in current events and the progress of the world; in such matters as aviation and other forms of transportation, invention and science.

It seems certain that before long no public school in large towns and in cities will be considered completely equipped in the absence of movies for educational uses.

Through such aid, even "Jography" may be made attractive, as when the teacher shall conduct the pupils in a screen journey around the earth.

Such Domination Is Wholly Un-American

Sacramento Bee

A federal judge in Ohio has ordered the eviction of 258 families of striking coal miners from their company-owned houses.

Under the law, the judge could do nothing else. The houses belong to the mining company, and has a legal right to put the strikers and their families out.

But the company has no moral right to make women and children the victims of an industrial dispute, and it is just this sort of thing which is at the bottom of the singular bitterness, and ferocity of the "coal war" everywhere.

Obviously, before the situation can be cleared up, the company-owned town and all the feudalism it creates will have to go. It is a wholly un-American institution, and it is intolerable that supposedly free Americans actually should be in little better case than the medieval serf, over whom the feudal lord had the right of high justice, middle and low.

A San Lorenzo Champion

Oakland Tribune

Make way for another California champion, one who will never be heard from on lecture platform or in the magazines. Anna Fayne Plebe of San Lorenzo, a Holstein-Friesian cow, is the new champion for the United States in butterfat production, as a senior two-year-old for over a period of 305 days.

Anna Fayne Plebe moves into that place of prominence formerly occupied by Pletje Butter Girl and with ample qualifications. During her best seven days she produced 727 pounds of butterfat, while in thirty days she was credited with 2323.3 pounds of milk and 119.33 pounds of butterfat. Anna Fayne Plebe makes no boasts and asks for no particular consideration in picture or print—but it may be submitted that a ton and a half of milk in a month, the contribution of this California cow, is something of which she and the state may be proud.
